

ABSTRACT OF THE INVENTION

This new variety '12-76-71', a red, seedless, table grape, is unique because of its combination of strong muscat flavor, seedlessness and high productivity. It closely resembles 'Flame Seedless' table grape which is one of its progenitors, but is different because of its later ripening and muscat flavor. The stenospermic fruit has muscat flavor, very firm flesh and is very sweet at maturity. Additionally, the fruit retains its form and quality over a long period of preservation in handling, storage and marketing.

SEARCHED
INDEXED MAILED
FILED
JULY 1976
U.S. PATENT AND TRADEMARK OFFICE